

Century Mental Health Provider

My name is Kelly James and I am a mental health therapist. I received a Bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon in 2009 and completed a Master's of Counseling degree at Pacific University in 2013. I have been working in the mental health field for 7 years in a variety of settings with a diverse clientele. I am happy to have found a home at the Century School Based Health Center.

I have additional focused training on working with children and youth impacted by trauma and using dialectical behavior therapy. I am an active and social person, so I participate in kickball and volleyball leagues as well as a running team. I enjoy anything that involves being outside and am always looking for new places to hike.
