

APRIL 22
4:30–5:45 p.m.
VIRTUAL EVENT

DREAMING JUSTICE SPEAKER SERIES

OREGON EPISCOPAL SCHOOL

WITH

Jesse Hagopian

The Black Panthers You Didn't Learn in School

Oregon Episcopal School
is pleased to present
DREAMING JUSTICE,
a series of conversations
about education and race.

Thursday, April 22, 2021

4:30–5:45 p.m. (Pacific Time)
FREE Live Virtual Event

The Black Panthers You Didn't Learn in School

Jesse Hagopian

Co-Editor of Teaching for Black Lives

RSVP:

www.oes.edu/dreaming-justice

The Black Panther Party was one of the most important organizations in the history of the Black freedom struggle and yet its legacy has been deeply distorted in American history textbooks. In some textbooks, the Panthers are barely mentioned and in others, they are maligned as anti-White and the cause for the demise of the Civil Rights Movement.

The rise of the Black Lives Matter movement has inspired a new appreciation for the Black Panthers—and the battle for the truth about their legacy is more important than ever.

Join Jesse Hagopian, co-editor of Teaching for Black Lives, for an interactive lesson on the Black Panther Party and an examination of their importance to the struggle for racial justice today.

The Dreaming Justice Series provides the community with opportunities to engage with scholars, educators, and artists around topics of education and race. Let this be the year that we learn how to be allies to socially marginalized groups, seek justice, and fight for the un-mattered. Join us as we dream and act for justice.