Synchronous Learning is defined as real time instruction and learning in which students interact with their peers and teacher, often through a digital communication platform (like Google Meet).

*Asynchronous Learning is defined as instruction and learning that does not happen in real time, but rather, completed independently by the student. This could include such activities as reading, viewing videos, chat-based online discussions, practice problems, writing, email exchanges with teacher(s), etc.

- Notes:
- Special Education Services, English Language Development and TAG Services will be available in both options.
 - Dual Language is only available through Comprehensive Distance Learning.
 - Some courses, such as AP/IB and certain College and Career Pathways courses, will only be offered in neighborhood school comprehensive distance learning.
 - Comprehensive Distance Learning can continue once the hybrid becomes available.
 - We encourage at least one semester or a full-year commitment if you choose Hillsboro Online Academy.
